WELCOME TO ATTLEBORO HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION 2005

The man we've grown to know and love, Mr. Burbank, has been an encouraging teacher an awesome friend and someone who many of his students look up to. We as students have been able to appreciate him for all that he does, both as a teacher and as a friend. He always has a smile on his face and is looking at the bright side of things. Mr. Burbank has shown time and time again he could never let us down. Mr. Burbank juggles so much, he is a teacher, father, grandfather and a friend to many. We've learned to put our trust in him, no matter how many things he has to juggle, he is always able to keep it together and get the job done.

It's hard for us to believe after all these years you are finally retiring, but it's nice to graduate with an old friend. Together we have shared so many found memories, that we will hold dear in our hearts forever. We hope that you finally put your feet up and enjoy your years to come, you deserve it after all your hard years of work. The class of 2005 will miss you, but never forget you.

-Allison Haskell, Michelle Lyons & Derek Pepicelli, Editors

~Burbank~

"Ever since the day I met you, I could tell from your infectious smile that you would be one of those people who is capable of changing someone's life forever. Thank you for changing my life for the better; thank you for all that you do. I have never been good at goodbyes, so instead I'll just say 'See you later.' I'll never forget you."

-Michelle Lyons (Editor)

~Buddy~

"Mr. Burbank, thank you for all that you have done, thank you for your guidance, friendship and true loyalty to us throughout the years. No matter what I can always look to you for your enthusiastic attitude and laughing personality. I know I will miss you, you're an awesome teacher, loyal friend and extremely hard worker. Thank You!"

-Allison Haskell (Editor)

~MotherHubbard~

Burbs, Thank You for all your help and support throughout this entire process. Even when the deadlines seemed insurmountable you were here making us laugh and helping the process. Your sense of humor and amiable outlook towards life make you an invaluable part of this school and will be missed by myself and Attleboro High School as a whole.

Good Luck & Congratulations,

Derek Pepicelli (Editor)

Class Advisors of...

Dear Mr. Parker & Mr. Westwater,

Mr. Parker, from the time you decided to become our class advisor, we thought you'd be trouble. But you proved us wrong. You've shown to be a very hard working and dedicated class advisor. It seems you are always looking for the brighter side of a bad situation. Thank you for showing strength when the class needed you most.

Mr. Westwater, you have been an excellent addition to our class. We realize it's hard to juggle your family, your teaching and now helping our class out. But you gracefully handle being our advisor. We are thrilled to have you with us this year as our advisor. Thank you for working as hard as you do.

We feel privileged to have worked with and been guided by both of you during our last year here at Attleboro High School.

Sincerly,
Danny Carcamo, Jr. (Senior Class President)
Allison Haskell (Editor)
Michelle Lyons (Editor)

History of the Class of 2005

"Growing up too fast and we do recall..."

"It was my life word for word, and all of a sudden it was clear." All of us saw that o' so familiar envelope, "To the Parents of..." we opened it cautiously, slowly revealing that tiny slip of paper, our first of many dreaded schedules; little did we realize then, that our highschool career had just begun.

When these halls were just starting to look familiar tragedy shook us all. The September 11th attacks came as a shock to everyone. The news leaked rapidly through the school as we tried to remain calm and supportive of each other. September 11th was and will always be a tragic milestone that in some ways managed to unite us all.

As our first assembly began, we looked nervously around for a familiar face. Soon we were introduced to our two advisors, Mrs. Cordell and Mr. Lefevre, the two people who would guide us through our first year at AHS. Those same faces greeted us on the football field as the 447 of us marched out, proudly wearing blue. Their bubbling smiles and abundance of energy was what gave us the confidence to give even the upper classmen a run for their money. The year flew by and before we knew it, that hot summer night in June was here. We all gathered in the cafeteria for our first dance, the Freshmen Social. Those last few months before our sophomore year we "watched our summer fade to fall."

"And everything we love starts to dissapear." As quickly as the leaves were falling off the trees, we were no longer the youngest in the school. As sophomores we got our first ounce of respect. A well needed, yet unexpected day off came in November when two janitors mixed the wrong chemicals together. Students were excited yet apprehensive on the frigid fall afternoon. As the last bit of snow melted, we prepared for our first real dance, off school property, at the Elks Lodge. The year seemed to be wrapping up so well, when a wave of bad news crashed down upon our class. A dear friend and classmate, Chris McGinnes, was diagnosed with cancer. The news was a shock to us all, but junior year wouldn't allow us time to balance our emotions.

Junior year began yet "we were still living life with no sense of time." This year's assembly introduced us to a new face, Mr. Parker, who joined Mr. Lefevre. These two advisors gave us a memorable junior year. Our rambuncious spirits got us in trouble when we were disqualified from the spirit rally for throwing a pumpkin. Right as our junior year was gliding along smoothly, we came to a fork in the road. We had to figure out a way to handle the cumbersome budget cuts forced upon us. We momentarily pushed all worries aside, to enjoy our junior prom. We arrived to Christina's and together we danced to 'Take My Breath Away' with all eyes on our prom King and Queen, Rob Melanson and Alycia Bradshaw.

As a new voice reverberated over the intercom we began to miss Mr.Camire, realizing our morning announcements would never be the same. Senior year holds a series of changes, including yet another new advisor, Mr. Westwater. With all sorts of deadlines to worry about, stress has become all too familiar this year. But the ultimate change is yet to come. Another o' so familiar day will come, when we will stare blankly at another envelope, this time not addressed "To the Parents of..." but addressed to us, as adults. This is the envelope we've all worked so hard for our entire high school career. As we finally muster the courage to open our envelopes, with the support of all those close to us, may they fullfill all of our hopes, wishes and dreams.

"May AHS have stamped your hearts with memories for years to come."

"With the yearbook coming to an end, after all of the late nights and deadline crunches, we made it. I would like to say Thank You to Burbank, for dealing with me when i didn't feel like working and always making your jokes. Thank You Michelle, for getting out of classes, I know you hated that and sticking through it with us. Thank You Derek for putting so much time into the sports pages and always being such a good sport and dealing with us whiners. Thank You to everyone else, for coming and putting your time into this long process. To the Class of 2005, I hope that you like it, I hope that everytime you open it, you see and remember your last year, here at AHS. This experience overall has been a very nice learning experience, it may have just been the best thing I've participated in all my years here at AHS. -Al

The past five months have brought me an immense joy. Working on this book and eventually becoming editor has been a fun and very worth while experience. Allison and Michelle, the staff, and Burbank have all given me an amazing time during a stressful process. I have learned that despite being an art teacher Burbank has an expansive and varied vocabulary. Thank you all for your time and effort on the book. And to the Class of 2005, during an amazingly brief four years I have had the great honor of getting to know you as a class, and I love what I have grown to know. As my last words to the A.H.S Graduating Class of 2005 I leave this old saying: "May the Sun always shine fairly upon you and the winds be forever at your back. Go now and tell of what you have learned." ~Pep

Derek Pepicelli

Michelle Lyons

As we submit the final pages of this year's yearbook, I must admit a large weight has been lifted from my shoulders. As much fun as this whole experience has been, producing this book takes countless hours of work. THANK YOU Mr. Burbank, Allison, Derek and all the staff for your time and dedication. Together we've finally done it! Through computer proplems, missing pages, formatting pictures and collecting ads, we pulled toether to produce a book that I am proud to have been a part of. Class of 2005, I hope that as you open this yearbook time after time you are flooded with memories from your time here. I wish each and every one of you all the best in the future.

Your Editor, Michelle Lyons
